TRIBUTE PAID TO WAR DEAD
IN V-J RITESVANDENBERG SUMS UP PROSPECTS OF
LASTING PEACE

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Large and small Michigan communities today (Wednesday) paused in solemn tribute to the state's 15,345 men and women who failed to return home from World War II, as special ceremonies marked the first anniversary of V-J day.

Before a victory day audience at the University of Michigan's Ferry field, Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg declared the victory over Japan which ended the war one year ago "also brought us dreadful and unprecedented responsibilities."

Goal Not Attained
"We won the war," the senator said, "but we have yet to win the peace. And in its larger and more significant sense we have not really won the war until we win a peace which in some degree approximates the human rights and fundamental freedoms and international security to which we dedicated our blood, our sweat, our tears."

Urging continued support of the United Nations, Senator Vandenberg asserted "we must totally, permanently and successfully outlaw atomic bombs forever."

"The sum of the realities" of military developments, he said, "can leave no rational mind with any other conclusion than that it is no longer enough for any nation, our own most emphatically included, to prepare for war."

"Instead we must collectively prepare against war itself so far as human wisdom and organized precaution can drive this supreme scourge from the lives of men," he said.

"If war then comes in spite of us, we shall have organized our 'Victory Day' in advance and from the moment that the conflict begins, it will be foredoomed."

Encouraging Beginning
Sen. Vandenberg described the United Nations as an "encouraging start" toward world peace but warned that national defense and "our Pan-American hemispherical defense" should not be neglected "until such time as the United Nations has clearly demonstrated its alternative dependability and until . . . we may join in successful disarmament."

He urged an international system for inspection and control of "the war use of atomic energy" under which it would be "impossible for international bad faith to succeed or survive."

"In return for these rigid pledges and this protective system, we are prepared to sacrifice atomic bombs ourselves," he added.

"It makes ridiculous the constant and malignant libels uttered in the Soviet press, abroad and at home, against our attitudes and our aspirations; and it will strip to transparent nakedness whatever alien opposition prevents this emancipation of nations everywhere from the atomic shadow and the atomic fear," Senator Vandenberg declared.

Two Overcome at Soo
The senator spoke at a special Ann Arbor celebration sponsored by various veterans organizations. Selfridge field aircraft roared overhead as the line of march moved from the downtown area to Ferry field where the senator was welcomed by Mayor William

Truman Proposes Larger Zone For Jews In Palestine

BY ARTHUR GAVSHON
London, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman replied today to the proposed plan for dividing Palestine into four federal provinces, and authoritative informants said he suggested a larger Jewish zone which would have more power in controlling its immigration.

A foreign office spokesman announced receipt of the Truman reply following a meeting in which Britain's cabinet reaffirmed its interim policy of shutting off the "underground railway" of illegal Jewish immigration to the Holy Land.

The contents of the American president's note to Prime Minister Attlee were not disclosed, but authoritative informants said it proposed an 1,800-square-mile Jewish zone, compared with one of 1,500 square miles as outlined in the proposals advanced by a British-American cabinet committee.

Attlee was expected to call a special meeting of the cabinet to confer on Truman's reply.

Britain on July 31 announced her conditional approval of the British-American experts' plan which proposed establishment of a Jewish zone, an Arab zone, a Jerusalem zone administered by the central government, and a south country zone also under central administration.

Each province would be empowered to set its own immigration, but final control over immigration would rest with the central government under this plan.

The plan also called for American financial aid for Arab economic development.

BULGARIA CALLS FOR MORE LAND

Treaty Already Too Easy
On "Criminal Nation",
Greeks Charge

Paris, Aug. 14 (AP)—Bulgaria appealed to the 21-nation peace conference today for the return of Western Thrace from Greece, and drew a stinging reply from the Greeks branding her as a criminal nation for whom the proposed treaty draft already was too lenient.

The Ukrainian Soviet Republic immediately supported Bulgaria's claim to the territory ceded to Greece after World War I, and charged that Greek policy was "instigated from abroad."

Both Hungary and Bulgaria presented their cases. Like Italy and Romania before them, each asked for leniency and each protested it had not aided the Nazi war machine to the extent the Germans had demanded.

Not only did Bulgaria call for the return of Western Thrace, a narrow strip along the Northern Aegean coast giving Greece a common frontier with Turkey, but she also assailed the Greek claims for a slice of her southern frontier regions.

Stung by these demands, Premier Constantin Tsaldaris, chief of the Greek delegation, accused the Bulgarians of "horror" during their occupation of Greece for the Germans, and charged Bulgaria with an expansionist policy.

Two Sergeants Who Rode To Work Free
Of Court Martial

Bad Nauheim, Germany, Aug. 14 (AP)—The U. S. Army dropped court martial charges against two sergeants today after a general refused to appear as a witness and answer defense charges that he had prejudged the case and ordered the soldiers punished.

The charges alleged that Sgt. Allen D. Hawk of Bristol, Tenn., and Sgt. Miles M. Hays of Houston, Tex., "wrongfully, in violation of standing orders of the commanding general of continental base section rode without authority in a motor vehicle to work."

Yugoslavian Major
Expelled In Italy

Rome, Aug. 14 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Bryant W. Moore, commander of the U. S. 88th Division in Venezia Giulia, has ordered the expulsion from his territory of a Yugoslav army major who adopted "a violent and threatening manner" toward him following an incident at Gorizia last week. Allied headquarters said tonight.

Nashville (AP)—Robert Rogers, 65, died of burns received when his clothing caught fire at his home. Police said a cigarette spark caused the blaze.

Mrs. Roosevelt Dozes
At Wheel, Is Unhurt In Smashup Of Three Cars

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the late president, was quoted in an official police report tonight as having told a patrolman that she "dozed off at the wheel" of her automobile just before it was in collision with two other cars near Yonkers shortly after five o'clock this afternoon.

Three persons were hurt in the accident, including a woman employee of Mrs. Roosevelt.

The statement attributed to Mrs. Roosevelt was written by Patrolman William Segnit and was a part of his official report made to the Westchester County Parkway police headquarters.

The collision occurred on the Sawmill River Parkway at Lockwood avenue.

Police said the driver of the other car in the head-on smash was Albert Brooks, 51, of Brooklyn, N. Y. He suffered a possible fracture of the left arm but was treated at St. John's hospital in Yonkers and sent home, doctors said.

The reporting officer said the third car was driven by Robert Stephen Rose of Ossining, N. Y. He said he was unhurt.

Both the Roosevelt car and Brooks' car were so badly damaged they could not proceed under their own power and had to be towed off the highway. Mrs. Roosevelt was driving a Lincoln sedan.

The woman employee, along with Mrs. Roosevelt was identified as Mrs. Jones received lacerations of the right ear and possibly a chest injury. She was held at the hospital overnight for examination.

The third person injured was Thomas Dowdell, 29, of Brooklyn, a passenger in Brooks' car. Dr. Shadle said he received lacerations.

Production Halted As Workers Celebrate
At Dodge Factory

Detroit, Aug. 14 (AP)—Veterans' demonstrations idled 6,500 workers on the final assembly lines at Chrysler Corporation's Dodge main plant here and halted production at three Pontiac, Mich., General Motors Corporation plants where 20,000 persons were employed.

A Dodge spokesman said 1,100 ex-servicemen caused the shutdown when they walked off their jobs at noon to celebrate V-J day.

"Practically all of the veterans had served overseas and felt they'd like to take the day off and join the celebration. They'll be back on the job tomorrow."

A company spokesman said the walkout was not a strike and was not a union proposition.

An estimated 200 veterans, protesting GM's failure to grant them vacation pay, marched in front of the Fisher Body, Pontiac Motor and the truck and coach divisions of the corporation and plant officials announced suspension of production when a number of employees refused to report for work in face of the demonstration.

The corporation said about half the workers were on their jobs and certain departments were able to operate as usual.

Kit Clardy Safe
In Plane Landing

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 14 (AP)—Kit F. Clardy, prominent Lansing attorney and former member of the state public utilities commission, escaped injury today when his twin-engine converted Army plane, piloted by Dudley True, made a perfect belly-landing at the Capital City airport.

Clardy's plane, its landing gear retracted and stuck, circled the airport for considerable time while airport authorities assembled a police guard, fire engines and rescue squads.

LIMIT RAISED
Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—President Truman today signed an executive order permitting the appointment without regard to Civil Service rules of fourth class postmasters whose compensation does not exceed $1,000 a year. Previously the limitation was $500.

A motorist who had stopped at the scene promptly offered Mrs. Roosevelt a ride into New York City and she climbed into the car, apparently bound for her Greenwich Village apartment.

JEWISH REVOLT
IS ENCOURAGED

Secret Radio Calls For General Uprising
In Palestine

Jerusalem, Aug. 14 (AP)—A broadcast tonight by the clandestine radio of Irqun Zvai Leumi, illegal Jewish organization, called for a general revolt of Palestine Jews and unification of Irqun, Hagannah and the Stern gang, similar organizations, into a single Jewish army.

The broadcast called also for an "underground Jewish government" and requested volunteers both for the underground army and the proposed government.

The Irqun Zvai Leumi broadcaster declared "we must exert our every strength against two enemies—the British and time."

Before the clandestine radio, heard in the Tel Aviv area, went on the air, five Jews were wounded in Haifa in a charge by policemen swinging batons when a mob attempted to break through barriers to the closely-guarded harbor area.

The underground government is needed, the broadcaster said, "to guide our constant war against those two adversaries." He added that "no longer will we wage a war of retribution, but a constant war."

The Irqun broadcast was directed to residents of the Tel Aviv area.

Listeners of the secret radio were requested to stop paying taxes to the Palestine government and to turn the money over, instead, to "the Irqun Zvai Leumi war fund."

Black Market Deal
Exaggerated, Says
Partner In Berlin

Berlin, Aug. 14 (AP)—Lewis L. Warner, who with his father and three brothers were named in an Army investigation of alleged black marketing, said today "the Army's statement that we did business at the rate of millions of dollars was a deliberate exaggeration to make a sensational story."

Other statements in an Army press announcement based on a criminal investigation division report were equally "outrageously fantastic," the 23-year-old U. S. weather bureau meteorologist told a news conference.

It was his first opportunity to reply publicly. Warner has been released from detention and permitted to resume his civilian job with the weather bureau at Templehof airfield. However, he is restricted to his post area while a board of officers considers whether formal charges will be drafted against him. No formal charges have been filed against any of the Warners.

Nine Questioned
In Labor Disorder

Detroit, Aug. 14 (AP)—Nine CIO and AFL leaders were summoned to the Wayne county prosecutor's office today following a scuffle in which three men were injured.

The disorder centered around a truck from the Frigid Food Products Co. where rival unions are in dispute over bargaining rights.

The truck's windows were broken and its load of egg crates smashed in a melee in which about 25 men took part, according to police.

About 250 employees of the plant have been on strike since July 22 in a demand for recognition of a CIO union. The firm has a contract with the AFL.

Fall Election Fund
Of CIO One Million

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The CIO Political Action Committee claimed success today in the congressional primaries and mapped plans for a $1,000,000 campaign drive in the fall general elections.

Jack Kroll, PAC executive director, told reporters that PAC's election activities will include a flood of 25,000,000 leaflets, plus 10,000 posters and 200,000 pamphlets, and recorded plugs for candidates by Hollywood radio stars.

FURLOUGH PAY TO BE RUSHED FOR VETERANSPOSTOFFICES GET THEIR FORMS BY MID-SEPTEMBER

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Government machinery was put into high gear today with the announced aim of paying 15,000,000 World War II veterans for their unused furlough time within 60 days after they file their claims.

The War department announced that application forms were being printed and dispatched to post offices, and that several thousand extra employees would be added to speed the $2,700,000,000 distribution authorized by congress.

Col. L. F. Chrisman of the Army Finance department predicted that after a peak load of applications expected in October the 60 day time lag would gradually be shortened.

Outlining the payment procedure and prospects at a news conference, Chrisman said:

1. Printing of 30,000,000 application forms by the government printing office should be completed by September 1 and are expected to be in all post offices by mid-September or soon thereafter.

2. The five year bonds to be used for the bulk of the payments will not be ready before September 20, however, so there is little likelihood of payments before that date.

3. Big city post offices will distribute to those in smaller localities, besides releasing the forms to their local veterans as soon as possible.

4. Payment will be made on a "first come, first served" basis. Veterans in larger cities may have a time advantage because they may get their applications sooner.

5. The War Department has no objection to reproduction of the application forms by the American Legion or other organizations provided the reproduction is exact and paper of as good a quality is used.

6. All applications will be officially acknowledged when received so the veteran will have a record.

7. What audit checks will be made has not been decided, but disbursing officers have been instructed to accept sworn statements of applicants as to the credits due unless there are reasons to suspect fraud.

In paying bonds and cash for the unused leave time, the government is placing great reliance on the veterans' memories. Those who cannot recall how many days furlough credit they are due can apply for information to the Adjutant General's personnel records branch at St. Louis, if they were in the Army.

Seniority Layoffs
To Cost Ford Co.
Several Thousand

Detroit, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Ford Motor Company was ordered today to reimburse its employees who lost earnings through layoffs or demotions during the period that so-called seniority was in effect under the Selective Service law.

Harry Shulman, Ford-UAW umpire, ruled that the Ford company erred in complying with the super-seniority ruling handed down by Selective Service in May 1944 and later declared invalid by the United States supreme court.

Under this, he said, returned servicemen were granted special job privileges, greater than those contained in the contract between Ford and the CIO United Auto Workers.

Union officials said the ruling would cost the Ford company "several thousand dollars." Ford spokesmen said they could make no estimate of the amount of money or number of employees involved pending a study of personnel records.

Farm Land Boom
Not Letting Up

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—The farm land boom—started by the high wartime demand for food and farm products—continues unabated, the Agricultural Department reported today.

Farm real estate values for the country as a whole increased four per cent for the four months ended July 1, the agency statement said, to bring them 77 per cent above the 1935-39 pre-war level.

The department said higher prices for farm products, record or near-record levels of both farm production and income, easy credit, and a huge volume of liquid funds available for land purchase continue as principal factors influencing the farm real estate market.

Wisconsin's Voters
Reject LaFollette;
Gov. Goodland Wins

Milwaukee, Aug. 14 (AP)—The LaFollette name, which has had almost magical vote-getting strength in Wisconsin for more than half a century and has resounded in the United States Senate for 40 years, was erased at least temporarily from the political boards today.

Destroyer of the LaFollette dynasty, at least for the present, was a 37-year-old former Marine Corps captain, Joseph R. McCarthy, who came back from the wars to defeat Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., for the Republican senatorial nomination in Tuesday's primary election.

LaFollette, a veteran of 21 years in the Senate, conceded his defeat and sent the winner a one-word telegram which read: "congratulations." In a statement, LaFollette declared he was "naturally disappointed . . . but I have no regrets or bitterness in my heart."

With only 61 precincts missing out of the 3,146 in the state, McCarthy had a lead of 6,694 votes. The totals for 3,085 precincts gave McCarthy 203,340 to LaFollette's 197,146. The third candidate, Perry J. Stearns, a Milwaukee attorney, had 29,312.

LaFollette's bid for the Republican nomination after serving 12 years as a Progressive followed dissolution of the Wisconsin Progressive party last March after several crushing defeats.

Since the turn of the century Wisconsin has had a LaFollette in the governor's office or in the United States Senate, and sometimes both.

Wisconsin's 83-year-old governor, Walter S. Goodland, whose candidacy was snubbed by the state Republican organization, won renomination for a third term. On the basis of unofficial returns from 2,992 precincts, the self-styled "tough old codger" had a lead of 20,322 over a former Progressive, Ralph M. Immell, who resigned as the state's adjutant general to become a candidate.

The party-endorsed candidate, Delbert J. Kenny, ran third. The vote in 2,992 precincts was: Goodland 187,033, Immell 166,711, Kenny 68,615. The vote of two other candidates was negligible.

McCarthy's opponent in the election November 5 will be Howard J. McMurray, a former representative in Congress, who received 57,363 votes as the unopposed candidate in the Democratic primary. Governor Goodland will be opposed by Daniel W. Hoan, former Socialist mayor of Milwaukee, who won the Democratic nomination with ease, polling 53,516 votes to 15,785 for Stanley Fajkowski of Milwaukee in 1,895 precincts.

WALKOUT HITS
STOCK MARKET

Unionized Workers Vote
In Favor Of Strike
At Any Time

New York, Aug. 14 (AP)—The New York stock exchange was thrown suddenly into an emergency basis for two hours today, but managed to stay in operation, while most of its unionized employees walked out in a body to vote in favor of a strike "at any time."

M. David Keefe, president of the United Financial Employees Union (Ind.), replied with an "I don't know" when asked whether the 652 to 51 ballot in favor of arming him with strike authority meant that a strike was imminent. He said he hoped for peaceable settlement of the union's demands.

The temporary walk-out today marked the first time in its 154-year history that operations of the exchange had been disrupted by such an occurrence.

Members of the exchange were forced to rush extra employees to the floor to pick up quotations. When the exchange's stock clearing corporation was unable to accept deliveries of securities, the members had to deal directly with each other.

But the exchange continued to operate with supervisory and non-union workers filling in the places left vacant and quotations for the most part came through in orderly manner.

BABY BURNS TO DEATH

Flint (AP)—Gail Arlene Hess, 19-months-old, was burned fatally and two other children were rescued Wednesday when fire damaged the home of Reuben Olson, 36.

Complications From Gun
Ambush Shooting Fatal
To James M. Ragen

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Gangland's guns ended James M. Ragen's life today but may have failed to silence him.

The 65 year old self-proclaimed foe of "all hoodlums," who amassed a fortune in the racing news publishing business but "never took a bet," died in a hospital from complications resulting from a shotgun ambush June 24—the second attempt on his life in two months.

In a 98-page statement given to State's Attorney William J. Tuohy after Ragen eluded would-be assassins by driving up to a police station April 29, the wealthy publisher accused remnants of the old Capone syndicate of attempting to muscle in on his enterprise.

He said he realized the "damages facing me in my business" but had prepared and filed away affidavits of evidence involving a syndicate controlled by "the Capone family" and that the affidavits would be delivered to federal authorities in event of his death.

Ragen was wounded by shotgun blasts fired from under the tarpaulin of a truck which pulled alongside his car at a south side traffic light.

He offered a $25,000 reward for the capture and conviction of his assassins. They never have been caught.

NEARLY 5,000 MEMBERS

Washington, Aug. 15 (Thursday) (AP)—Government conciliation through the night failed today to head off a Great Lakes shipping strike by 4,500 members of the CIO-National Maritime Union.

Federal conciliators and Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson worked up to the midnight strike deadline in an unsuccessful effort to bring about agreement between the union and 17 Great Lakes carriers. The union's major demand is for a reduction in the work week from 56 to 40 hours.

While only 1,100 workers were

Ceiling On Coffee Raised 10-13 Cents

BY MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Coffee price ceilings were raised 10 to 13 cents a pound today, and OPA predicted a five to seven percent hike for cotton clothing made from top grade textiles.

The agency also:
1. Authorized a retail increase of one to two cents a pound for dry beans;
2. Removed price controls on canned and other processed cherries.

OPA's forecast on better grade clothing was a follow-up on last week's announcement that prices for cotton garments made from basic grade textiles are going up six to eight per cent.

Both clothing increases, to be put into effect soon, result from price hikes of 13 to 16 per cent on cotton textiles, which were required by the new price control law, OPA said.

Housewives will pay the higher prices on coffee and dry beans the agency said, as soon as grocers make their purchases of these items at higher ceilings.

Reds Feel Chiang Has Done Nothing For Chinese People

BY TOM WILLIAMS

London, Aug. 14 (AP)—Britain, striving to maintain her position in the rich and strategic Middle East, is rejecting a Soviet proposal which would bar her warships from the Dardanelles, and an Iranian protest against presence of her troops in Iraq, authoritative informants declared today.

A high government source said a British note already had been dispatched to Iran refuting the protest that presence of British Indian troops at Basra, across the border from the troubled Anglo-Iranian oil fields, endangered Iran's sovereignty.

Unofficial quarters here speculated that the action might mean referral of the question by Iran to the United States.

A foreign office spokesman said Britain would reject a Russian proposal that only the Black Sea powers control the Dardanelles. He said Britain took the stand that the 1936 Montreux convention governing the strategic straits should not be revised without the concurrence of all interested powers.

Revision of the convention to place the straits under the control of Turkey and "other Black Sea powers" was proposed in an Aug. 8 Soviet note to Turkey. Under it, only warships of Black Sea powers could use the straits except in cases when special arrangements had been made in advance.

Informed sources in Istanbul said Turkey, adhering to her view that the problem of the Dardanelles is an international one, had already rejected the Russian note.

Westchester Co. Favored By U. N.

New York, Aug. (AP)—The permanent home of the United Nations would be located in New York's Westchester county under recommendations made today by the U. N. headquarters commission.

The commission, preparing a final report for the Sept. 23 meeting of the general assembly, pared down its original list of 15 sites to five, eliminating all areas in Connecticut.

These Westchester selections now go to the assembly which may pick one of them or discard all the findings and start looking for another location.

The five sites take in four towns — Harrison, Yorktown, Somers and Cortlandt.

Medical School Enrollments Low

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—The American Medical Association said today that enrollment in freshmen classes of the country's medical schools was shaping up to be the smallest in 17 years and that 60 per cent selected up to June for entrance were war veterans.

A report prepared by the AMA's Council on Medical Education and Hospitals and published in the current issue of the AMA journal said that 4,666 students had been selected up to June and that a survey showed 1,079 more would be chosen.

The report said also that the total of 5,826 graduates for the 1945-46 year, final year in most schools of accelerated programs in effect during the year, was "the highest in over 40 years."

RAF Pilot Claims 623 Miles An Hour

Tangmere, England, Aug. 4 (AP)—A Royal Air Force pilot said he exceeded the official world airplane speed record of 606 miles an hour today, flying a jet-propelled Heister Meteor 626 miles an hour in three minutes.

The pilot, Group Capt. Edward Donaldson, was testing the plane or an official assault on the British held record, scheduled for later this week.

Donaldson said he reached the speed at an altitude of 3,000 feet.

MARINE SERVICE CUT

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Marine Corps headquarters announced today that discharge requirements for male reservists and draftees have been reduced to 12 months active duty. The previous gure, 18 months, was established July Aug. 6.

involved in the negotiations covering 44 vessels of the 17 carriers with whom the union has bargaining rights, NMU President Joseph Curran said there were close to 5,000 members on the lakes who would join the strike.

PICKET LINES SET UP

Cleveland, Aug. 15 (Thursday) (AP)—CIO National Maritime union officials announced early today that a strike of its members called for the Great Lakes at 12:01 a. m. (EST) "is on."

A spokesman at strike headquarters here said "the attempts of the NMU to avert the strike have failed because the shipowners have stubbornly refused to bargain on a 40-hour week. They have no answer for a refusal of a 40-hour week because there is none."

Crew members were pouring into strike headquarters for strike duty assignments and union members said picket lines were being set up at all docks where freighters were tied up and in front of any hotel or other building "that might house strikebreakers."

Previously, there had been reports that union members were leaving their vessels before the strike deadline.

Koreans Trained As Soviet Spies

Seoul, Korea, Aug. 14 (AP)—U. S. officials who declined to be named said today a cache of seven pistols and ammunition, and "amazingly detailed" documents on U. S. installations, were confiscated by Korean police last Wednesday in a raid on the home of Kim Sei Yung, head of the political section of the Leftist People's party.

Kim is sought for questioning. The same officials said that a Korean youth arrested recently on an espionage charge admitted he had attended an espionage school in Russian occupied North Korea.

He was quoted further that he was given a map of Southern Korea, an itinerary, 500 yen for expenses, and a briefing on his South Korea mission that included spreading a rumor that war was likely between Russia and the United States.

Training School Official Chosen

Lansing, Aug. 14 (AP)—The state conservation department today announced the appointment of John Gunderson as assistant superintendent of the department's training school at Higgins lake.

A conservation department officer since 1937, Gunderson has served in Calhoun, Livingston, Branch and Ingham counties. He also was assistant supervisor in the Traverse City, Boyne City and Gaylord district offices.

Canadian Farmers Turn To Chinchillas

Toronto (AP)—Canada's two-year-old chinchilla-breeding industry is attracting fur farmers. Since 1923 when the first six dozen chinchillas were brought to the United States to breed in captivity animals fast becoming extinct in their own land, chinchilla ranches have sprung up in all parts of the continent. Now there are more than 20,000 of the animals.

The Canadian Chinchilla Company, with head offices in Toronto, with ranches throughout southwestern Ontario and the Niagara Peninsula, sells pairs of chinchillas to would-be fur farmers throughout the Dominion.

In line with a recommendation of the senate-house Pearl Harbor investigating committee, Mead said the group headed by Kilgore will inquire into defense construction activities at Pearl Harbor before the Japanese attack.

The Pearl Harbor committee received testimony that radar and other defense facilities were incomplete at the time the Japanese struck the air blow that plunged this country into the war.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) was among those named to the subcommittee.

Reds' Dardanelles Scheme Rejected

Nanking, Aug. 14 (AP)—Communist reports of fierce fighting in North China were coupled today with an authorized Communist statement that Chiang Kai-shek's program to unify China means the government "wants war."

This initial Communist reaction to Chiang's six-point peace program, announced earlier today, came from Wang Ping-Nam, speaking through the authority of China's top Communist leaders.

Meanwhile, the Communists Yenan radio reported that 3,000 government troops had been slain or wounded in bitter fighting at Jukao and that 5,000 more had surrendered. (These figures were not substantiated from any other source.)

Wang said that in offering to dissolve the one-party Chinese government and in threatening to put down all rebellion in China, Chiang "neither wants peace nor has any faithful desire for it."

The statement made it clear the Reds felt Chiang had done nothing to clear up the dispute which has bedeviled peace talks for eight months.

Starr Takes Oath Today As Judge For Western Michigan

Grand Rapids, Aug. 14 (AP)—Raymond W. Starr, who resigned from the State Supreme Court bench in Lansing this week, will take the oath of Federal judge for the Western Michigan district at 2 p. m. here Thursday.

A Grand Rapids lawyer, Starr first served the state as Michigan Democratic Attorney General under Justice Frank Murphy, then governor.

On leaving the state's highest judiciary Starr made the suggestion that more time should be allowed for appellate questions. An interim remove much of the detail now put upon justices. He pointed out that during his six weeks in Lansing his records show that around 27 per cent of the circuit court decisions appealed were reversed by the Supreme Court.

Starr will have the Western half of Michigan and the Upper Peninsula in his jurisdiction in his new post.

Gov. Kelly has not yet announced Starr's successor in Lansing, but plans to name the new justice along with a liquor chairman appointment yet this week.

Kilgore To Head
War Probe Group

Washington, Aug. 14 (AP)—Chairman Mead (D-NY) today appointed Senator Kilgore (D-WV) as head of a senate war investigating subcommittee to inquire into pre-war activities of Col. Theodore Wyman, Jr., former Army division engineer in Hawaii.

In line with a recommendation of the senate-house Pearl Harbor investigating committee, Mead said the group headed by Kilgore will inquire into defense construction activities at Pearl Harbor before the Japanese attack.

The Pearl Harbor committee received testimony that radar and other defense facilities were incomplete at the time the Japanese struck the air blow that plunged this country into the war.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) was among those named to the subcommittee.

State Police Hunt Two Escapers From Marquette Prison

Two inmates of the state branch prison at Marquette who walked away from the prison last night are being hunted by state police and local officers, and troopers of the Gladstone detachment have set up road blocks designed to head off the escapers.

The convicts at liberty are: Fred Ramsey, 27, 5 ft. 10 in., weight 140, fair complexion, dark brown hair, wearing blue overalls and shirt, sentenced from Wayne county for armed robbery.

Robert McLean, 21, 5 ft. 7 in., brown hair, blue eyes, 165 pounds, wearing white uniform; sentenced from Delta county April 6, 1944, for 3 to 15 years for breaking and entering.

A reward of $50 is offered for information leading to the apprehension of each of the escaped men.

Stevens Hotel Bars Address By Smith Of America Firsts

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Police squads were called to two downtown hotels tonight to quell disturbances caused by the appearance of Gerald L. K. Smith whose last speaking appearance in Chicago Feb. 7 broke up in a near riot and resulted in his arrest.

Smith, head of the America First Party, first abandoned plans to speak at the Stevens hotel after police told several hundred persons in the hotel lobby that "the meeting was called off."

Later, after he and some of his followers had repaired to the Morrison hotel, crowds followed and a fist fight took place in the lobby between some of Smith's followers and picketing groups.

No disturbance had been reported at the Stevens although there was a verbal exchange between his followers and his opponents. Fifty uniformed police kept the arguments under control, however.

The Morrison's resident manager, F. L. Best, said that a second floor room had been reserved late today under the name of "Regular Republicans."

Some fifty pickets were marching in front of the Morrison carrying signs proclaiming "Chicago doesn't need Smith's Fascism" and "drive Smith out of Chicago." The pickets changed it to "get Smith out of the Morrison."

Earlier Slaughter had threatened to initiate a contempt citation unless more complete records were produced by 4 p. m. He told reporters he had decided to give Fields an over-night chance to "purge" himself.

Fields insisted that the notebook sheet represented all available records on his purchase of 538 rolls of government screening and their resale at a profit of $4,442.80 to himself and his associates.

The committee is particularly interested in learning how those profits were split, since the memorandum lists $1,880.93 as going to "John Doe."

Americans Must 'Fight' For Peace, Says Ward

All Americans must now "fight" for peace lest a new atomic war destroy our civilization, Rev. James G. Ward, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, declared in an inspiring Veterans Day address at Ludington park yesterday afternoon.

Winning the peace, Reverend Ward pointed out, depends upon outlawing the atomic bomb, the development of friendship between all nations and the successful operation of the United Nations.

The speaker, who was introduced by John J. Bartella, president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the veterans to the homecoming celebration and commended them for their "valiant effort" in the recent struggle.

"Forty million have been slaughtered in this war," Reverend Ward said. "Our enemies, spurred on by brutal dictators and warlords, have been cruel and bloody. Thank God, the forces of freedom and liberty of peace-loving people have completely defeated them."

The speaker outlined briefly the several mighty struggles which our forces won under their commanders. He also paid tribute to American scientific and industrial achievements in the war.

"Now, we are engaged in winning the peace," Reverend Ward continued. "More than a year has passed and we have not yet written our treaties with Germany and Austria. We must win the peace for I greatly fear an atomic war will destroy our civilization. Russia is suspicious of us, especially the 13 men in the Kremlin. They do not understand our friendship and democracy. The atomic bomb scares them and it scares me."

"God grant that every veteran and citizen may work to win the peace." Reverend Ward declared that as a nation we must avoid "the hells of prosperous emptiness, international distrust and economic conflict." He called upon Christians everywhere to avoid these hells by working for peace.

"American cemeteries all over the world remind us that another Gettysburg is here," he declared. "We must finish the task, and we must win the peace."

Parade In Afternoon

Observance of the first anniversary of victory over Japan, marking the end of the war, was begun with religious services in the churches yesterday morning.

Veterans of two world conflicts and the Spanish-American War marched in the parade in the afternoon. Miss Helen Bink, queen of the celebration, and her two attendants, Irma Bartley and Anna Marie Tousignant, rode in a decorated jeep, furnished by the U. S. Army Recruiting Service. Several children entered floats in the parade.

After the speaking program, games and contests for children and veterans were held at Ludington park. The band concert, fireworks, dance and softball game in the evening were attended by large crowds.

Raises for Diplomats

THE United States foreign service will be overhauled and top diplomats will receive substantial increases in salaries under the provisions of a new law passed by Congress.
The legislation, introduced by Rep. John Kee of West Virginia, provides raises from $17,500 to $25,000 to make the diplomats' remuneration more in line with those paid executives in private industry. When one considers the importance of foreign relations now and in the future the salaries are certainly not too much.
The new law also provides for the establishment of a foreign service institute to train men for diplomatic careers. This should fill a long-felt need. Great Britain and other foreign nations have long selected their most promising men and given them extensive training. It probably explains why the British are so adept in diplomacy. With America assuming a greater responsibility in world affairs, it is necessary that we have able men to represent us in our dealings with the representatives of other nations.

Our Nationalized Mines

IT SOMETIMES seems that public excitement over labor crises is exceeded only by public indifference to the outcome, once the crises are past. Who outside the coal business, for instance, cares or even remembers that the government is still running the coal mines, with no immediate end of the job in sight? We venture to say that number isn't now large.
As things stand now Vice Adm. Ben Moreel is the nominal boss of the soft coal industry—though some might give that title to John L. Lewis. The mine operators are supervising production as government employees. And Mr. Lewis himself is off vacationing somewhere in the Northwest.
Admiral Moreel seems to be doing a good job in a setup not much different from what it has been. He has the same general complement of bosses and workers. Payments to Mr. Lewis's health and welfare fund are being banked. The boys are getting out the coal. What profits are made go to the operators.
The only remarkable thing is that the industry has undergone what might be called nationalization by default. Meanwhile, the operators are in a legal fight with the government over whether Mr. Lewis's mine supervisory union should be certified as a bargaining agent for the foremen, as it now is under terms of the government contract.
Also, the operators don't seem anxious to take over until they can find out what further recommendations the Bureau of Mines may make under its new safety code, and what they will cost.
A news story the other day reminded readers that bituminous mine managers "thus far have made no public move to get back their mines." But it might seem that the next move would be up to Mr. Lewis.
It will be recalled that he presented his generalized demands to the operators and after some hat and sharp words, walked out. He hasn't been back. Later he signed with the government, pretty much on his own terms.
As far as the operators are concerned, John L., though a loud vocal advocate of collective bargaining, has collected without bargaining. And John L. doesn't seem particularly about whom his contract is with, so long as it is to his liking.
Presumably, the operators will wind up making the first move. After all, people with a lot of money invested in a business usually prefer to run it. It's a lot nicer to be a coal company president than a government employee with about the same job-security as a Washington stenographer. Furthermore, when a surplus of coal is again attained, the high-cost mines may find those government-earned profits vanishing in a competitive market.
So that's about how things look today. This summing-up is simply a reminder that one of the country's biggest and most important industries has been quietly but thoroughly backed into nationalization, that nobody knows when the first mine will revert to private ownership, and that the return of all mines to private operation is decidedly problematical.

Bad Times A-Comin'

SECRETARY of Commerce Henry Wallace, who is becoming something of a Cassandra of the corn industry, is again promising us that we are heading for a big boom and bust. Others are saying it, too, and perhaps it will come to pass. What interests us, however, is Mr. Wallace's reasoning.
We seem to recall that last fall Mr. Wallace was prophesying a boom and bust if the country didn't follow his blueprint for 60,000,000 jobs, and that the Commerce Department was predicting something like 8,500,000 unemployed by spring if the boss's words weren't heeded.
Well, the 60,000,000 jobs are very close to being a reality, and the unemployment figures never approached the Commerce Department prediction. All this was accomplished without sticking by the letter of the Wallace directions.

Now Mr. Wallace says the 60,000,000 jobs are unstable, unnatural and inflationary. He looks for dire times ahead.
Maybe so, maybe so. But it does sometimes seem that Mr. Wallace is unable to see or enjoy any ray of economic sunlight unless it originates with his own particular sun.

Racket on Graves

ADD to the list of fraudulent schemes being used to obtain money from former service men and their families the recently reported veterans' graves racket.
Relatives of the nation's war dead are being warned to shun all persons and organizations attempting to sell information and advice about the graves of fighting men buried overseas. It is believed that the old World War I racket of selling such information has been revived by persons playing on the sympathies of the next-of-kin of war casualties.
The crooks who are attempting to take advantage of veterans' families in this manner are as low and despicable as ghouls.

Not Enough Volunteers

SELECTIVE Service has announced that the army plans to call 185,000 draftees in the next seven months in order to keep our military strength at the desired level.
While voluntary enlistments have exceeded the army's expectations, the number is not sufficient to meet the nation's military needs. On July 1, the army had 1,715,000 officers and enlisted men, somewhat over the authorized strength, but the list includes 135,000 fathers who are to be released from service next month.
While it imposes a heavy burden upon the nation's taxpayers, we must take the advice of General Eisenhower and other military leaders, who point out that the United States must keep its defenses strong during the critical period that lies ahead. We still have a heavy responsibility in the occupation of the defeated Axis countries and until a durable peace program is formulated we shall have to keep well-armed. These are times when military strength gives diplomatic prestige to the nations that have it.

THE STATE'S BULGING POCKETS

(Grand Rapids Herald)

A glance at the State's sales tax receipts for July gives a pretty good idea of the woefully unbalanced tax system of the Commonwealth of Michigan. The Treasury's income from this source during the month was $12,371,000 or at a rate of $148,000,000 a year.
In 1933, when the sales tax was instituted receipts from this source were $34,800,000 just about the total Gov. Comstock and the Legislature intended it to be as a substitute for the State tax on real property.
Last year the sales tax produced approximately $112,000,000 and the continued upward trend of prices indicates that sales tax revenues will skyrocket for several years.
What is the State going to do with all this cash?
The answer, of course, is simple. Spend it. Spend it wisely in some cases; foolishly in most. Waste it, scatter it around for every fool-de-rat that pressure groups can conjure up.
While the State is indulging in this money spree, the Cities and other governmental units operating under the restrictions of the 15-mill tax limitations are unable to scrape together sufficient revenues to perform essential public services.
The State either should relinquish a portion of these swollen sales tax revenues to Local units or the whole State tax system should be revamped and some of the present sources of tax monies abandoned. The present condition is intolerable.
It is not a healthy state for any governmental unit of pile up tax money beyond its reasonable needs. Surpluses are an invitation to extravagance, waste and possible corruption.
This is exactly what is happening in the State of Michigan today. Tax money is flowing into the Treasury at such an astounding rate that we are beginning to experience an era of extravagant commitments.
The time is here to review the State's whole tax system in order to bring it in balance. Present revenues are entirely out of proportion to the reasonable needs of the Government.
It is a sad commentary on public administration when money is dropping out of the bulging pockets of the State and Local units of Government are groping around for pennies to stave off shabbiness and dilapidation.

More people are making interesting things out of wood, the result of war times. That's using their heads!

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The news stories out of the Paris peace conference read at times like the accounts of a big-time prize fight. Round by round, we hear first that the American champion is on top, then the Russian.

Childs of a telescope.

Secretary of State Byrnes scores a point on foreign minister Molotov. As in those international chess matches carried on by telegraph, no one but the experts can be quite sure how much this means for the home team.

—PALESTINE ISSUE IGNORED—

One reason the conference has an air of unreality is the fact that it is carefully proscribed from considering the issues that will determine war or peace in the world. Take, as a single example, Palestine, which is a key area in the key region of the Middle East.
While the peace-makers have been sitting in Paris, the situation in Palestine has steadily and tragically deteriorated. Like the chain reaction of the atomic bomb, one explosion leads to another and the end is disaster. The blast in the King David hotel in Jerusalem was only one in the chain.
What is lacking is a positive plan—a plan that would mean a beginning of a solution for the whole region. Responsible Zionist leaders know this better than anyone else. They know the terrible dangers inherent in trying to force a political solution which overlooks the fierce conflicts, economic and racial, in an area torn by ancient dissension.

Such a plan would raise the level of living of the Arab peasant. The Jews, in their homeland in Palestine, have made the desert bloom. Repeatedly the Arabs have come to them for advice and help. In the larger plan, the Jewish state would serve as an example.

In the newest London proposals for Palestine, there was a hint of such an approach. Along with a proposal for partition of the area into a Jewish Palestine and an Arab Palestine, went a reported recommendation for a fund of $200,000,000 to start the rehabilitation of the Middle East. This would be spent on irrigation, hydroelectric projects, education of the Arab peasant in modern agriculture.
Presumably most of the $200,000,000 would have to come from this country. The mere suggestion of such a possibility immediately set up an outcry from the old forces of isolationism. They promptly called it a "bribe," to the Arabs. Britain, they said, would have to pay this "bribe," not the United States. Once again, as in the '30s, they seem to prefer the ultimate disaster of war and, therefore, they resist any and all steps which might prevent a war.

—PEOPLE WILL NOT WAIT—

Two facts are overwhelmingly clear. First and foremost, this—The peoples in depressed areas such as the Middle East will not wait patiently while we debate the political proprieties. Change on a massive scale is inevitable. Either we accept this change, guiding and conditioning it, or we stand in the way and get swept along with the other relics of an outworn past.

The second and related fact is this—Too many men in our state department and in the British foreign office and colonial service are thinking in terms of the past, when it was enough to back an influential sheik or a reigning Pasha who controlled his people. Those days are gone forever.

The writing on the sky is plain. Anyone should be able to read it. The British, with the oil holdings in Iran, are faced with a situation that is certain to prove embarrassing and may even prove disastrous. The pattern there is typical.

The left wing, Communist-inspired Tudah party makes demands on the Anglo-Italian Oil Company, which is half owned by the British government. The concessions are too late and too little. The agitation directed at "Foreign Imperialism" puts the other political parties and their leaders on the spot. Britain's entire position is jeopardized.

In voicing the profound beliefs at the base of western society, Secretary Byrnes' speeches have a quality of greatness. But it is important to realize that words alone are not enough.

how the expression originated, nor where. Philadelphia: How did the nickname "limey," for an Englishman, originate?—P. H. K.

Answer: In the days of sailing ships, sailors often developed scurvy because of vitamin deficiencies in their monotonous diets. The British government passed a law making a daily ration of lime juice compulsory on all ships. Among mariners, British ships became known as "lime-juicers." Later, British seamen were called "limeys," and in time "limey" became a nickname for any Englishman, a soldier or sailor especially.

Los Angeles: What about the word "benedict," a married man?—Mrs. F. W. C.

Answer: It's from the name Benedict, the hero of Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing. The young lord was an avowed bachelor, but finally married Beatrice after a riotous and comical courtship.

STORY OF A PERIOD—Latest book from the pen of James K. Jamison of Ontonagon is "By Cross and Anchor", the story of the life and times of Father Frederic Baraga, among the later Jesuit missionaries to America who became the first bishop of Marquette.

Dunathan Marquette in 1866, following a long life devoted to fighting ignorance and sin among the Indians of the Michigan wilderness.

"The narrative of Frederic Baraga's mission is essentially the narrative of a struggle—long, intense, unrelenting—out of which a man emerges to victory," Jamison says in his foreword.
The book is written with admirable and classic restraint. If sometimes the restraint seems constraining, a closer reading for full meaning of word and phrase will bring the satisfying understanding which the reader may have missed. This is not dereliction by the author, but a sad commentary on the modern reader, who is often unaccustomed to the simplicity of truth.

AND A MAN—Jamison writes with sincerity of Father Baraga, undoubtedly a man whose life he has admired greatly. All his life he has heard stories of Frederic Baraga, until in later years he was impelled to tell the story—not as history, not as biography nor as fiction.

"By Cross and Anchor" is a combination of all three approaches in story telling—and a happy and most effective combination it is for Jamison's subject. Not only is Frederic Baraga revealed as a well-rounded, fully-disclosed character we come to know intimately, but other persons of his time are there, and the life of the missionary takes on complete meaning as it emerges from the historical background of his period.

The intense hardships that brought suffering to Frederic Baraga included that of the northern climate. Once among many times, after long hours facing the cruel wind, the priest finds shelter in a cabin. His eyes were swollen shut, his face frozen.

"The skin of my face fell off like the fabric of a vestment that is worn out," he wrote in a letter.

AND A COUNTRY—It is in writing of his beloved north country that Jamison becomes the poet. "It was one of those October days by which the Lake Superior climate redeems itself: hazy, benignly warm, sublimely peaceful."

And again: "Spring came, in that year of 1836, with feet of lead. It was nigardly of its warmth and charm; only occasionally the sun broke through a low-arched, sodden sky. Yet one day the foliage on the white birches appeared like a thin, green mist. Slothful and miserly, spring had come to La Pointe."

ACTION-ADVENTURE—The story of Frederic Baraga's life is an action-filled one. If Jamison has made it seem quiet and serene despite storm-filled days, and nights of hunger and suffering, it is because the missionary himself had such serenity within his soul. and the vast pineries of the northland attracted some of the toughest elements in the world, are well done by the author. The great adventures of the priest, including such fearful experiences as being tossed on a Lake Superior ice floe; caught in mid-bay in a terrific autumn squall that nearly swamped their frail canoe; being attacked and threatened by Indians and by whites alike—these and other authentic adventures of the Jesuit priests are told quietly.

THE ENDING—"Give the poor anything I have they need. I have no further use for anything," said Father Baraga as the flame of his life flickered low.

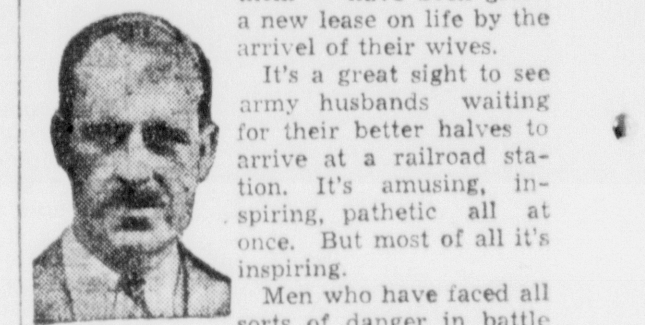

As the Bishop of the Diocese of Sault Ste. Marie and Marquette, Frederic Baraga could not consider service other than personal. He gave away what was given him for his comfort, refused more comfort for himself when it was offered.

By Cross and Anchor" ends with the death of Father Baraga. It is a story written with honesty, such honesty as makes Jamison conclude his foreword: "Finally, in fairness to the subject to the reader and to the author, I believe it needs to be said that this writer is not a communicant of the Church which Frederic Baraga served."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Paris — (By Wireless)—The best thing that has happened to the American army in Europe is the arrival of the wives. U. S. troops—which, by the way, have been doing a magnificent job wherever I've seen them—have been given a new lease on life by the arrival of their wives.

Pearson

It's a great sight to see army husbands waiting for their better halves to arrive at a railroad station. It's amusing, inspiring, pathetic all at once. But most of all it's inspiring.
Men who have faced all sorts of danger in battle stand on the station platform, nervous, perspiring and anxious. They carry little bouquets of flowers. The train is late. The flowers wilt. It doesn't make any difference. They haven't seen their families for two, three, perhaps even four, years and they're not quite sure what is going to happen. Then, finally, the train arrives. The band plays "Kiss Me Once and Kiss Me Twice and Kiss Me Once Again." The reunited couples need no encouragement.

When the first trainload of wives arrived at Bremerhaven and took the long, slow trip down through Germany, army bands were out to meet them at every station. The train was late and sometimes the ladies didn't arrive at their different destinations until long after midnight but the serenaders stayed up just the same and the wives woke up and came out, cold cream and all, to receive the musical salutes and flowers.

—MORAL IMPROVEMENT NOTED—

The arrival of American army wives in Europe has straightened up troop morals more than any other factor. Profanity at army sports contests vanished overnight. Fewer Frauleins are now living in army quarters. Chaplains say that if the American wives don't make any mistakes themselves they can have a great effect upon the entire American army in Europe.

NOTE—American wives have one gripe—the official designation given them by the army: "Dependent wives," or "D. W. S." Leland Stowe observes this is better than being called "displaced wives" or "damned women." (That's a joke, ladies.)

—WE WANT PORTUGUESE BASES—

It has been widely publicized in the press that the giant airplane carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt with accompanying ships is making a good-will visit to Portugal. However, another matter coincident with the visit has not been publicized.

The Portuguese government has recently turned down cold the American request that we lease the Azores air base which we built during the war. For some time negotiations for a permanent base have been under way, but after considerable hesitation the Portuguese finally gave us a flat no.

Diplomats consider it more than significant that the giant carrier FDR should now parade a little muscle in Lisbon.

NOTE—The British, who have long-term treaty relations with Portugal, could let us have the air bases if they chose.

—ATTLEE TRUSTS BYRNES—

Prime Minister Attlee had a tough time in Paris while Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin was sick. He never could quite tell what Bevin had agreed to in the previous secret conversations of the Big Four.

One day while Secretary of State Byrnes was conferring with a group of Americans at the Hotel Maurice, he was called to the phone three times in one hour. Finally Byrnes apologized.

"That was Prime Minister Attlee," he explained. "He is conferring with our people and the British and French and they keep referring to agreements we made at the Big Four meetings with Ernie Bevin."

"Attlee keeps calling me to find out if Bevin really made the deals they refer to."

—DECODING THE DIPLOMATIC POUCH—

Paris isn't the only place where diplomatic sparks are flying. U. S. Ambassador George Messersmith had a hot tiff with Argentine Dictator Peron the other day over Bolivia.

Messersmith had called on President Peron to tell him the U. S. favored immediate recognition of the new Bolivian government now that it has thrown out its former Nazi rulers. However, the Argentine dictator said no. He described the new Bolivian government as Communist and admitted he was trying to persuade Brazil, Uruguay and other Latin American nations to stick together in opposing recognition. Of course he didn't say so, because Messersmith already knew it, but the deposed Bolivian government was a Peron stooge. In the end the U. S. Ambassador told Peron that the state department would regard his delaying tactics with great disfavor and walked out in a huff.

NOTE—While calling the new Bolivian government Communist, Peron simultaneously is welcoming Soviet cooperation. He is the first Argentine president since the Bolshevik revolution in 1917 to recognize Russia.

Midwest Corn Crop Promises Boom In Meat-Dairy Products

By L. B. SKEFFINGTON
Ames, Iowa, (NEA).—Plenty of meat, milk, poultry, eggs, butter, and cheese are almost in the bag for Mrs. Housewife next winter.

The key to that plenty is right here in the tall corn fields of the Midwest.

Corn, chief ingredient in feeding livestock, is booming along to an all-time record production. That means an end may be in sight for the forries of the livestock feeder. It means that dairymen and poultrymen now can plan in terms of increased, rather than decreased, production.

There is so much corn in sight that growers, as well as officials in high places, are conjecturing what to do with all of it. Here is the problem:

The country never before has harvested much more than three billion bushels of corn. As the crop stands right now, it is pushing up toward four billion bushels. The 10-year average is little more than two and one-half billion bushels.

A few months ago, the outlook for livestock feed was gloomy. Then nature stepped in with ideal weather for planting and for growing. Even the expert crop estimators have been confounded. A few weeks ago they hoped for three billion bushels. Then they raised it more than a third of a billion and a half billion, but out here, where "the trade" is checking constantly on the supply, there is great optimism that these figures are too low.

"Million Dollar Rain"
And Old Man Weather continues to work on the side of consumers. Muddled roads and puddles in the streets greeted me on a trip through Iowa, where the corn crop is pushing far beyond all previous records.

"Looks like a million-dollar rain," I greeted one farmer.

"Mister, it depends upon how much ground you cover," he replied. "Every bucket of water adds a bushel of corn at $2 a bushel."

His implication was far-reaching. A one per cent increase in yield beyond the last government estimate would be 35 million bushels. Therefore, at his figure, every one per cent boost in the harvest would add 70 million dollars in wealth for corn belt farmers.

No wonder they are optimistic! Even though the new corn crop is not yet harvested, old corn crop is moving freely. The urge to hedge against a poor crop no longer exists, for the time being at least. Black-market products are out. So corn futures are dropping in price against the surge of the new crop which is growing potentially larger day by day.

One effect of this month's rain was to offset any fear of drought. I put this up to several farmers and they, in substance, said there was no indication that this was a drought year.

Plenty of Wheat, Too
The wheat harvest is finished, or nearly so, all over the country. It also is one of the largest crops. From Canada and the rest of the world come reports of large production. The wheat and oats crops already in the bins, added to the corn crop now maturing, at this writing, spells just one word—"plenty."

There is still another factor to complete the picture as of today: Corn is maturing early, which makes for better grain as compared to a lot of poor corn last year. Generally, hay and grass crops have been excellent in most sections this year, in contrast to a year ago.

Normally, the large crop of corn would not worry anybody. But there is a disquieting side to the picture. There has been wave after wave of killing off to reduce feeding of food animals because of the feed shortage, poor quality, and high prices of feed obtained.

Much of this liquidation has been in hogs and poultry. Definitely, there are fewer animals to feed. The huge feed crop now means that hatcheries can start turning out millions of baby chicks, that laying hens can be kept in production, and that dairy cows can be fed better this fall and winter than at any time in several years.

Polio Wave Loses Ground, But May Yet Delay Schools

By the Associated Press
The worst wave of infantile paralysis since 1916 began losing momentum in some hard hit areas Tuesday but most health authorities said it was too early to tell if the peak had been reached.

In other sections, however, the disease was in epidemic form with no letup in sight and a possible delay in opening of the fall school term was being considered in at least two places.

Encouraging signs were noted in Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, and Florida where the disease either showed at least a temporary slowup or progressed slower than originally feared.

The picture remained dark, however, in Minnesota, Mississippi, Colorado and some scattered areas elsewhere.

Four Mississippi counties were closed as epidemic and officials were considering a delay beyond Sept. 3 in opening schools and cancellation of the State Fair Aug. 24.

Various communities have closed pools or restricted bathing and cancelled youth meetings as precautionary measures.

A week ago, the U. S. Public Health Service reported, the total cases throughout the country exceeded 5,000, highest since the 29,000 recorded in the record year 1916. Later figures were not yet available.

New Metal Alloys Can Harden Steel

Washington—Valuable new information on the use of boron to partially replace molybdenum in hardening steels results from a wartime study now available to the public.

The testing was carried out at the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, under the sponsorship of the National Defense Research Committee by M. C. Udy, and P. C. Rosenthal. A report prepared by these two scientists is available from the Office of Technical Services, U. S. Department of Commerce.

One hundred boron-treated steels were tested. Nickel-chromium-molybdenum and manganese-molybdenum base steels were used. From the standpoint of hardenability best results were obtained with additions of .0015 per cent to .002 per cent boron, the researchers found. The boron addition had no apparent adverse effect on notch-bar toughness at temperatures down to 80 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

Boron can be used to replace half the molybdenum in aluminum-killed steels of certain compositions, the report states.

Impressive Service Held At Park For World War II Dead

Munising.—Impressive memorial services, held at 10:45 Wednesday morning for World War II dead at the Bay Shore park, marked the first anniversary of the ending of the recent war. Gold Star mothers or next of kin of Alger county war dead were guests of honor and were presented Gold Star certificates during the service.

With the Munising bay waters as a background, officials conducting the service sat in a row facing the mourners with a replica of a grave and white cross between them. Ushers, all veterans of the armed services, who led the mourner to the front as the name of the deceased soldier was called, stood in military dress along both sides of the "outdoor chapel" with the firing squad of the Legion post standing "guard" facing the lake.

The local high school band furnished the music of the service and stood a few paces from the group.

Those soldiers of Alger county, who lost their lives in the recent war and their next of kin who participated in the service are listed as follows, with servicemen listed first followed by next of kin:

Uno John Kupila, Mrs. Ero Saari; William Vertz, Mrs. Don Vertz; Virgil Monroe, Dormalee Monroe; Leo R. Robinson, Mrs. Goldie E. Robinson; Francis Burke, Mrs. Francis B. Burke; Lowell J. Fournier, Mrs. Elsie Fournier; Kenneth Ouellette, Mrs. Kenneth Ouellette; Urko V. Pitkamaki, Mrs. Amanda Pitkamaki; Leslie Tervo, Mrs. Henry St. Martin; Henry Knous, Mrs. Louis Knous; Richard Coffman, Mrs. Merwin Coffman; Wilko Ridell, Mrs. Ida Ridell;

Ralph Risku, Mrs. Lydia Risku; Lawrence Methot, Mrs. Georgianna Methot; Leonard Vian, Mrs. J. Vian; Chas. R. Cook, Mrs. Chas. Cook; Melvin Tweedale, Mrs. Eva Atherton; Eino E. Kinnunen, Miss Bertha Kinnunen; Burt Chase, Frank Chase; Stanley Pawlowski, Mrs. Stanley P. Pawlowski; Ralph Gunville, Mrs. George Leach; Gerald Morin, Mrs. Fred Morin.

Following is the list of war dead and next of kin not represented at the service, and whose Gold Star certificates will be mailed:

Joivo Alto, Hyalmar Alto; Emil D. Bartash, * * * Donald Christ, Leon Christ; Alvin E. Courter, Mrs. Hattie Syers; Carlo Erickson, Andrew Erickson; Toivo W. Rev. Steen Gives Eulogy For V-J Day Memorial Services Held At Park

Munising.—Speaking before a large crowd of Munising residents and visiting tourists who were gathered at the Bay Shore park for the V-J day memorial services, Rev. Frederick Steen of the First Presbyterian church, Munising, gave the Gold Star mothers and next of kin, seated in the out-of-door chapel, an eulogy well to be remembered for many years to come.

He said: "We have gathered here this morning to honor the memories of those, who in the service of their country gave their all. Indeed it is fitting on this anniversary of that great occasion that we should do this. For you and I must never forget the tremendous cost, paid in human lives, for the victory we now enjoy. Upon the altar of sacrifice many of the young men of our nation laid down their lives for something they deemed better than life itself.

"They fought and they died that we might remain a free people, free from want, free from tyranny; free from injustices; and free to worship God, each in his own way.

"And on this day when we honor them, the names of places come to our minds, places that suggest to us their heroism and their courage. Before our minds we picture their gallant stand at Bataan, and their swift movement in the deserts of Africa. We see them sweat to the deep jungles of Guadalcanal and Tarawa, or chill to the bitter winds of Attu. And then again on Iceland we see them endure the fog and loneliness that almost drove them insane. We watch the awful beach at Salerno, and see them advance in the face of murderous fire. And then the slow advance on Cassino, and the terrible wait on Anzio. We watch the sands of Normandy turn red as they penetrate the Western Wall. And then in turn, we think of St. Lo, of the epic Bastogne, of the swift movement to Remagen. Or again the barren volcanic islands of Iwo Jima and Okinawa. And then our eyes turn upward as we watch the lonely flights through the black filled skies above Schweinfurt, Regensburg, and Berlin, or above Tokyo or the broad expanse of the vast Pacific. We think of the long, lonely nights for those who rode through and under dangerous waters, and of their gallantry on Midway and Guam.

"And then in silence we bow our heads as we think of St. Mere Eglise, Henri Chappelle, and Guam, where in silence, row upon row, acre upon acre, of little wooden crosses and six pointed stars stand to mark the resting place for those who will not return. We must think too, of the many watery graves of the brave Navy lads buried at sea.

"They shall grow not old as we that are left grow old. Age shall not weary them nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun and in the morning, we will remember them" (Quoted from Binyon).

Rev. Steen quoted parts of the Lincoln Gettysburg address at this point and went on to say:

"Aye, we have a debt to our honored dead, and that debt calls for payment not in the very distant future but in the present, that you and I in our way try to make this a finer land in which to dwell, land in which men who fought for freedom, black, white or yellow, shall enjoy the rewards of that for which they so nobly fought; that you and I shall in our small way do what we could so that peace shall prevail. That we shall make this a truly free land, free from fear, free from want, free from tyranny and freedom to worship as one pleases.

"This is a great day of victory, but so too, it is for us a day of challenge." Closing his talk, the Rev. Steen spoke to the mothers and next of kin seated before him and reminding them that those they were honoring that day had given the greatest gift of all, their lives.

Alger County Land To Be Auctioned

Munising.—A total of 1,775 acres of Alger county land will be sold at public auction to be held at the Marquette county courthouse, Marquette, Sept. 7. The Alger and Marquette county land sales of the conservation department will be combined. They will be part of a series of sales to be conducted Sept. 4 to 13 throughout the Upper Peninsula.

Proceeds from the auctions are pro-rated back to the county, township and school districts where the lands are located.

Hawaii's Problem, Just What Is Jeep?

Honolulu, Hawaii.—(AP)—It's going to be up to the 1947 territorial legislature to decide what a jeep is.

Thousands of surplus jeeps are being offered for sale here, but no one can say what kind of vehicle license they should carry. So unless the legislature acts, they will be designated as trucks if used as such—otherwise as passenger cars.

NEW TEACHERS HERE—Four new teachers recently assigned to the faculty of the Munising township school system are pictured above. They are all graduates of Northern Michigan College of Education. Miss Barnes, James Woodbridge and William DeBruyn come to the Munising schools on their first teaching assignment. Mrs. Stevenson taught for two years at Traverse City before coming here.

REV GLEN ILL

Munising.—Rev. Arthur A. Glen of Escanaba, director of the Blessed Hope Bible camp of the Baptist church now being held at Clear Lake, is ill and was not able to be at the opening exercises of the camp, Rev. Jolls, pastor of the Van Meer Baptist church, reported yesterday.

Rev. Jolls announced the camp cottages for the two week conference were filled to capacity by Monday evening and a tent had been pitched on the grounds to house 25 girls. A larger attendance was anticipated during the week and more tents would be put up, he said.

Former Munising Minister To Preach Here Again Sunday

Munising.—The Rev. Joseph Kennedy of Mt. Clemens, Mich., who served as pastor of the Munising First Presbyterian church from 1920-23 will return to the local pulpit to preach the Sunday morning message, Aug. 18, it was announced yesterday by Rev. Frederick Steen.

Rev. Kennedy, who was well known and well liked during his pastorate stay here, is now vacationing on Drummond Island and will arrive in Munising Saturday to spend the week end visiting his many friends throughout the city and to occupy the pulpit this coming Sunday morning.

Mrs. Kennedy will be with her husband on his visit here.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Stanley Gurski is a surgical patient at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette.

Pvt. Raymond J. Dominick has been graduated from an Army's Quartermaster Food Service school at Fort Sheridan, Ill., as a cook.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cooley, 316 West Superior street, are Miss Clara Ropers and Miss Jean Albert of Fort Wayne, Ind. Miss Albert was formerly a physical education instructor at Mather high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chalmers and children, Rockford, Ill., former Munising residents, are spending several days here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shreve and sons, Jack and Tommy, returned to Flint Wednesday, after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Messier, for a week.

Nazi U-Boats Used Rubber To Cover Tell-Tale Sounds

Washington.—Rubber mountings cemented to steel machinery parts in German submarines prevented vibrations and eliminated tell-tale sounds by which submerged U-boats might otherwise have been detected by American sonar-radio-buoys and other devices.

The methods of bonding the rubber to the metal can be applied in American factory and other installations where rubber is used to decrease machinery vibrations. Details are given in a report by American postwar investigators, just made available by the Offices of Technical Services, U. S. Department of Commerce.

Two methods of bonding were used. In one, the cement is applied directly to the degreased and sandblasted steel and was employed for pieces to be used in compression. In the other, the steel was first brass-plated, then the cement added. This method was used for mountings subjected to

Robert Putvin Speaks To Rotary About Japanese

Munising.—The plight of the Japanese in their effort to recover from a years-long rule by military cliques and after more than a decade of warfare was described to Munising Rotarians Tuesday in the First Presbyterian church basement. Capt. Robert Putvin, now on terminal leave from the Army, and who spent six months in Japan this year as a member of General MacArthur's staff, was the speaker.

Briefly reviewing Japan's development from the time the country was "opened" in 1853 by Commodore Perry, and emphasizing the effects of religion, including Buddhism, Shintoism and Christianity have had upon the crowded population, Putvin declared Japan's lords long had been preparing for the penetration of the Orient, bringing out in his talk the parts native religion and education played in training the people for what was to come.

An Unstable People While the Japanese are ordinarily considered a very stable people, actually they are just the opposite, Putvin said, basing his judgment upon various studies, his own observations and the psychological fact that they have intentionally inhibited themselves in many respects, and when those self-imposed barriers are removed, the individuals "are the opposite of what they usually seem."

Conditions, generally, have not improved much for the Japanese people since V-J Day, the speaker said. He pointed out that housing is still a very critical problem in that country, and families continue to live in subways and caves in lieu of proper housing.

The Japs have been a "copyist" nation, he said, taking their religions, their legal and educational systems, and even their military pattern, from foreign countries. In reverting Japan to a democratic, useful nation, that factor should not be overlooked, Putvin said, pointing out that Army occupation forces can serve a peace-building and helpful purpose by good discipline and a progressive and helpful spirit.

Paintings, photographs and other souvenirs which he brought back from Japan were exhibited at the meeting by Captain Putvin.

Fights Please Big Crowd At Munising

Munising.—Nine three-round boxing bouts, in which young Munising pugilists displayed their prowess, drew a crowd of over 300 in Munising's holiday program Wednesday. The feature event of the card, fifth on the program, was fought by Bob Coryell and Bob Spencer who came out with everything in the books and had the audience in an uproar. Other matches, all no-decision three-rounders, were: Sherman Nebel vs. Jim Perry; Bill Perry vs. Red Davis; Butch McQuiston vs. Charles Perry; Harold Gosselin vs. Wild Bill Lement; Dick Masters vs. Delbert Mercer; Glen Perry vs. Melvin Thundander; Bob Masters vs. Lory Reed, and Bob Gauthier vs. Ted Tiernan.

Parallel Radio Beams Can Detect True Air Speed

Wright Field, Ohio.—An airplane's true speed is determined accurately here with radio detection beams on the Army Air Forces' speed course. Three parallel beams at right angles to the course do the trick.

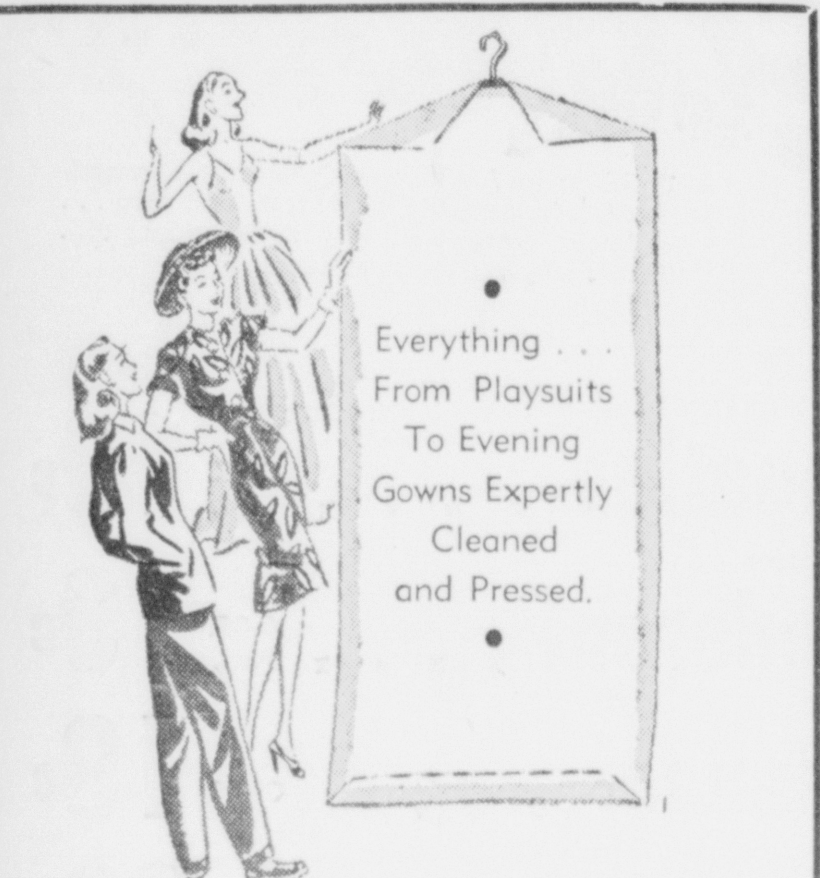

The speeding planes cut these beams as they pass over the course and as they cut each beam send a signal to the ground. The time elapse between the signals is compared with the known distance between the beams, and the speed computed. The method may be used with either high or low-flying planes.

Numerous other methods have been used to measure true air speed, but all were found to have limitations. Various types of instruments installed in planes give approximate but not true speed. A radar system which followed the plane in flight was not sufficiently accurate, while a method of timing by use of vertical wires, cameras and a timing motor was effective only at low altitudes.

The radio beam method operates accurately in any weather and any altitude, and is the first system capable of measuring speed at or above the speed of sound. A similar installation at Muroc Army Air Base, Calif., will be used to check the speed of rockets and pilotless aircraft.

In late July or early August of each year the Hopi Indians of northeastern Arizona stage their annual snake dances with live, poisonous reptiles. This is the Hopi's way of praying for rain.

Trenary

Methodist Picnic

On Sunday, Aug. 11, a picnic and outdoor worship service was held at Dutch Mill park by the congregation of the Trenary Methodist church.

The service included hymns, responsive readings, lesson from the Scripture, and a vocal duet by the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. Story.

Personals

Mrs. Frank Laurence of Alhambra, Calif., visited last week at the home of her niece, Mrs. Arnold Druckenmiller. It was her first visit here in over 40 years.

Mrs. Charles R. Little and her granddaughters, Eleanor and Stella Ford, spent Wednesday in Munising.

Mrs. John Webber and Theresa Methot spent Monday in Escanaba. Mrs. Andrew Hytinen and son, Gerald, of North Delta, spent Monday at the Nestor Orava home.

The Misses Eunice and Mabel Martindale, and Miss Johnson, all of South Bend, Ind., visited their aunt, Mrs. Eunice Zeiters, on Sunday.

Mrs. William Eskew and son, Billy Joel, have returned to their home in Detroit after spending the past month at the home of her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Druckenmiller, Sr. Accompanying Mrs. Eskew to Detroit was her sister, Helen, who will visit there and in Pontiac with another sister, Mrs. Ed. Walamis.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Pluff and daughter of Detroit spent Saturday visiting friends here.

Births
Mr. and Mrs. George Druckenmiller are the parents of a daughter, Joy Ann, born August 4 at St. Mary's Hospital in Marquette. The baby weighed seven pounds and seven ounces at birth. Mrs. Druckenmiller is the former Willa May Robinson of Muskegon Heights.

Here Is Good Test,
Brow-Beaten Wives

BY RUTH MILLETT

NEA Staff Writer

"You've given the men a test for hen-pecked husbands—now how about letting us wives see whether or not we're browbeaten," say the women.

All right. Answer these questions:

Does your husband expect you ALWAYS to be at home and to have dinner ready the minute he comes in from work?

Do you have to get your husband's permission before you buy a dress?

Are the couples you entertain in the evening always friends of your husband's, since he doesn't like your friends?

Do you always eat at home, because your husband hates to eat out, although you would love to eat dinner in a restaurant once a week?

Do you wear conservative clothes, because your husband wishes you to, although you yourself would prefer something a bit more colorful?

Does your husband groan when he is told some of your relatives are coming to visit you, even though you are gracious about entertaining him?

Do you vote the way your husband tells you to?

Does your husband frequently tell you that you never get anything "straight," and does he contradict you when you are telling a story?

Is Hubby Unsocial?

Is your husband gruff and unsocial if he comes home and finds you entertaining a woman caller?

Do you always have to ask your husband for money, never being able to write a check on a joint account?

Has the spiritless reply, "Whatever you think, dear," become a habit with you?

If you answer "yes" to any three of those questions, you're the feminine counterpart of the hen-pecked husband.

Swimming Program
At State Park Gets Off To Fine Start

A full busload of Manistique youngsters took advantage of the new swimming program, initiated yesterday by Thor Reque, city recreation director, which provides free transportation and swimming facilities for teen-agers at Indian Lake state park.

The bus takes children in the 8 to 12 year old age group mornings and youngsters 12 to 15 in the afternoons, daily except Saturdays and Sundays, bringing them to the park at 9:30 o'clock and returning at 11 a. m., and in the afternoon the bus leaves at 2 o'clock and returns from the park at 3:30. The bus leaves from the Central and Lincoln schools.

Swimming at the park is under the supervision of the recreation director and the "buddy system" is used to permit periodic checks on the youngsters to see that all are accounted for.

Use of the bath house at the park is free for the children and there is no charge made for the transportation.

Swimming areas where the depth of the water is suitable for children in the various groups are being roped off and a raft will be set up soon for their use. It is hoped that a slide can be provided next summer.

LAND SALE TO BE HELD HERE

Lands Division Will Offer Property Here
On Sept. 5

The second series of state land sales in the northern peninsula this year will make 27,755 acres and 561 lots available to high bidders at nine auctions between September 4 and 13.

At Manistique 1,360 acres and 13 lots in Luce county and 361 acres and 31 lots in Schoolcraft county will be auctioned.

The conservation department's lands divisions announces the series as follows: At St. Ignace September 4, Manistique September 5, Escanaba September 6, Marquette September 7, L'Anse September 9, Houghton September 10, Ontonagon September 11, Crystal Falls September 12, and Iron Mountain September 13.

All sales will be held in county court houses.

Work Going Ahead
On Readying Three Ball Diamonds Here

Work of leveling the area at the fairgrounds here where the recreation department will have its headquarters and where three fields, a baseball and two softball diamonds, will be laid out, is well under way.

The diamonds will be laid out so that ball players will not be forced to face the sun at any time during play. Concrete dugouts will be set up and all steel backstops will be provided on all diamonds.

The east end of the oval area will be set aside for automobile parking.

It is hoped that bleachers for the baseball field will be made available next summer.

Horseshoe Courts
Here Now In Use

Three regulation horseshoe courts, set up this week by the city recreation department, are now in use on the lot north of the J. C. Penney company, use of which was donated by Scott Creighton. Another court is in readiness on a lot west of the Schuster market, use of which was donated by Otmer Schuster, and two more will soon be added. Regulation shoes are available on all the courts.

Tips for Farmers

RASPBERRY PATCH SHOULD BE CLEANED UP AFTER HARVEST

After harvest is the time to clean up the raspberry patch, says J. L. Heiman, county agricultural agent. The habit of growth of raspberries makes this clean-up necessary. Each season new canes appear as shoots from the crown of roots and from buds near the base of the previous year's canes. These new canes complete their growth the first summer, bear a crop the next year and then die. They are then ready to be removed. If they are not, the patch soon becomes choked with dead canes, literally a bramble patch. Old canes also harbor insects and disease.

Michigan State College Extension Flier F-74, "Hints on Raspberry Growing," gives a pruning program to follow. It suggests that immediately after harvest all old canes should be cut out and burned. Don't leave these old canes piled near the planting. Burn them as they are cut out to check the spread of insects and disease. Remove all suckers of red raspberries that have come up outside of the hill or row.

If it has not already been done, pinch or cut off the ends of young shoots of black and purple raspberries when they reach a height of 2 to 2 1/2 feet. This practice is recommended for red raspberries.

The bulletin on raspberries may be obtained from the county extension office.

MARSHALL LLOYD VISITS
Menominee—Marshall B. Lloyd of Los Angeles, Calif., is spending the week in Menominee on a visit to the Lloyd Manufacturing company and will go on to Gardner, Mass. next week for a similar visit to the Heywood-Wakefield company, in which he also has extensive interests.

Mr. Lloyd is the son of William J. Lloyd, of Los Angeles, and a grand-nephew and namesake of the founder of Lloyd Manufacturing company. He was recently discharged from military service as a seaman, first class, in the U. S. Navy.

Before entering service he was associated with his father, who is West Coast representative for Lloyd and Heywood-Wakefield in the states of California, Nevada and Arizona. Mr. Lloyd will rejoin his father's firm on his return to the west.

WON'T REOPEN JORDAN
Menominee—The Society of the Divine Savior at St. Nazianz, Wis., which operates Jordan Seminary in Menominee, "could not consider at all the possibility of reopening the institution as a college," the Rev. Fr. Red. S.D.S., stated in a letter to Menominee Lions Club, which initiated a movement for the reopening of the school as a junior college.

CHILD HAS POLIO
Iron River—A five-year-old Iron River township girl, Susan Aho, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Uno Aho who live on US-2 one mile west of the city, has contracted infantile paralysis, the county health department reported yesterday.

The health department said this morning that no other cases of polio have been reported in the county. Susan became mildly ill on Friday and on Saturday, the family physician, Dr. L. E. Irvine, diagnosed her ailment as polio. On Sunday, the child was taken to St. Luke's hospital in Marquette where she is reported responding to treatment. The child was not believed to be in serious condition when she was referred to the hospital.

Tucks In His Beard,
Speeds, By Cracky!

Guthrie, Scotland—(P)—William Cant, 86, is the father of the postmistress in this Angus town and when war came he went to work as a "telegraph boy," often cycling four or five miles with messages. His years make him the superior of James Cleminson, 80, who recently stopped being telegraph messenger in Tilticoutry, Clackmannanshire, his successor being David Duncanson, 70.

Flier's Testimony
Is Aimed In Trial

Jordan, Mont.—(P)—Lyle Nelson, witness in a trial involving charges of illegal cattle branding, testified that he spotted misbranded animals from the air in his small private airplane. He told the court that by flying at 10 to 15 feet and cutting his speed to 35 to 45 miles an hour, he could read the brands easily.

VOCAL SOLOIST
AT CENTURAMA

Gunnar Granquist Sang
Sat'y At Milwaukee
Musical

Gunnar Granquist, former public school director of music, was one of the featured soloists at the "A Night of Musical Gems" presented Saturday, August 10, at the Centurama Amphitheater on the lake front at Milwaukee.

Granquist also sings regularly with "The Milwaukeeans," a mixed quartet which appears on "The First Wisconsin Hour" presenting Wisconsin's stars of tomorrow and which is heard over the air every Tuesday evening.

Also on the program last Saturday evening were a massed chorus of one thousand voices, Milwaukee's Florentine Opera Chorus, the Warsaw Fine Arts Ballet and the Washington Park Chapter DeMolay Drill Team.

A picture of Granquist used in connection with the program appeared in the Milwaukee Sentinel recently.

LeRoux-Cowen
Miss Nathalie Joyce LeRoux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. LeRoux, 515 Superior avenue, and Paul Frederic Cowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Cowen, 1203 Dakota avenue, were united in marriage at a double ring service, performed by the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaul, on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 10, at 2:30 o'clock in the parsonage of All Saints Catholic church. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate members of both families.

The couple were attended by Miss Carol Cowen, sister of the groom, and Joseph Butch, brother-in-law of the groom.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white silk street length jersey dress, a large white picture hat, white gloves and shoes. Her shoulder spray was an orchid. She wore a gold and pearl pin and earring set, a gift of the groom.

Miss Cowen, the bridesmaid, wore a white silk crepe street length dress, with American beauty trimming and white accessories. Her shoulder spray was of yellow roses centered with snapdragons and daisies.

The bride's mother was attired in a flowered silk jersey dress with a white background and white accessories. The groom's mother wore a black and white silk jersey with black and white accessories. Both mothers had shoulder corsages of red roses and sweetpeas.

A wedding reception from 5 till 8 o'clock for 125 to 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Tall white candles and a three tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional bride and groom centered the serving table. The bride and groom cut their cake with a monogrammed knife that had been a gift to the groom's mother thirty years ago. The handle was tied with white streamers decorated with snapdragons. Large baskets of gladioli and mixed flowers decorated the home. The Misses Rose Marie Clark and Violet Gustafson poured and Mrs. Joseph Butch, sister of the groom, was receptionist.

The couple are motoring to various points in Wisconsin on their honeymoon. For her going away costume the bride chose a green gabardine suit with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone high school, Class of 1943, and after graduation worked in Racine and Milwaukee. For the past year and a half she has been employed at Anderson's Market, city.

The groom is a graduate of Gladstone high school, Class of '41. He was an operator for the Soo Line railroad for two years before entering the U. S. Army. He was honorably discharged in April, 1946, after 27 months of service, of which 18 months was spent in the European theater of war. He has just completed a six weeks' summer course at the MacPhail School of Music in Minneapolis.

The couple will leave the middle of September for Minneapolis.

GOLF TOURNEYS
TO BEGIN SOON

Today Is Deadline For Posting Qualifying
Scores

Today is the deadline for posting of qualifying scores for the annual men's golf tournament of the Gladstone club. Eighteen holes are required and the scores posted determine the flight in which the contestant will shoot.

As in other years there will be a championship flight for the better golfers of the club and other flights for players posting scores higher than those needed to get in to the championship bracket.

Gus Dehlin is the defending champion.

Match play will begin this coming Sunday and continue until Labor Day when the awards will be made at a dinner to be held at the clubhouse.

The women's tournament will also be played this month. Qualifying scores must be posted today and tournament play begins Monday, August 19. A breakfast at the clubhouse will precede the opening of match play Monday.

The tournament is scheduled to be completed by next Thursday, August 22, when prizes are to be awarded the winners.

Mrs. Walter Erickson is the defending champion.

Mrs. Ted Sherwood left Wednesday morning for Milwaukee where she will meet her husband, Cpl. Ted Sherwood, who has just received his discharge from the U. S. Marine Corps.

No Tomorrow At One Point In Westward
Crossing Of Pacific

Pfc. Frank Schense, city, is now stationed at Johnson Field in Yokohama, Japan, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schense are advised.

He arrived there July 19 aboard the SS Marine Serpent, and found while making the crossing that at one point in the Pacific there is no tomorrow.

The following account of crossing the International Date Line, printed in the ship publication, was sent to the Schenses:

"Years from now when you will have become aged and considerably wiser than you are today, when you will be a grandfather or grandmother with pillows and grandchildren about you, listening to your many fantastic tales, you will be able to tell this one, a real true story:

"On Friday, July 12, 1946, when I was sailing on the good old SS Marine Serpent for Yokohama, to do my bit in keeping the sons and daughters of the Rising Sun from uprising, I found for the first time in my life that there would be no tomorrow. Shocking, isn't it? Yes, I knew when I went to bed, that when I'd wake up, it would be the day after tomorrow, an entire day lost! I thought of the poet who said:

Count that day lost,
Whose low descending sun
Sees from thy hand,
No worthy action done.
'Here was I faced with a day lost during which not even one unworthy action could be done.'

"Of course the kids will gaze and wonder. The older and brighter ones will probably be skeptical, until you tell them about crossing the International Date Line."

F 2/C Doug Boucher and S 3/C Lowell Meneau, Harry Olive and Don Soderman returned to Great Lakes, Ill., after a ten day leave spent visiting their parents.

PIN-WORMS

At Last—
A Real Treatment!

Anyone who has ever had Pin-Worms knows how tormenting and embarrassing this infection can be, and how hard it may be to deal with the creatures, once they get a foothold inside the body.

Today, thanks to a special, medically recognized drug (gentian violet), a highly effective treatment has been made possible. This drug is the vital ingredient in P.W., the Pin-Worm tablets developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms in your child or yourself—especially the aggravating rectal itch. And don't delay. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P.W. right away, and follow the directions. Satisfaction guaranteed, or your money back.

It's easy to remember: P.W. for Pin-Worms!

The Sports Scoreboard

By Harry Grayson

New York (NEA.)—It may have meant a new era for Pittsburgh baseball fans when crooner Bing Crosby and a syndicate of three others purchased the Pirates, lock, stock and barrel, but it also brought to a close one of the most colorful one-family dynasties the game has yet known.

The Dreyfuss family is out of Forbes Field, which is like saying the horse is no longer associated with the harness.

For it was in 1892 that Barney Dreyfuss, a small, excitable but lovable man, saw the Louisville club, of which he was a minority stockholder, move into the old 12-team National League. Barney did not know it at the time, but this franchise eventually became his own and moved into Pittsburgh, several times sweeping to the baseball championship of the world.

Barney Dreyfuss has been dead since 1932 when, at 67, he failed to rally from an operation. But his name and memory have been associated with the Pirates ever since for Mrs. Dreyfuss, an ardent fan herself, assumed command of the business and ran it with her son-in-law, William Benswanger, meaning one family remained connected with the franchise for close to 60 years.

Barney Dreyfuss was born in Germany in 1865, the son of American parents. His forbears were Jewish and it was natural, when his folks returned to the United States, that Barney took to trade and commerce with a relish. As a young man he became a whiskey salesman in Louisville.

He had never played baseball in his life but turned out to be an enthusiastic fan. He could recite pitching and batting averages down to the smallest fraction, so no one was surprised when he came home one day and happily announced he had acquired some stock in the Louisville club, then in the old American Association.

Other stockholders knew a good man when they saw one and later, when the Colonels went into the National League, Barney was asked to become president. He added to his stock and finally, when the National was reduced to eight clubs, Dreyfuss' Louisville club was switched to Pittsburgh.

No one was sure if Barney could make it go in such a large city. But he showed them quickly bringing in Fred Clarke, Hans Wagner and a galaxy of stars to finish second in 1900, won pennants in his next three years.

He was no easy foe in a fight. At one time his scouts signed George Sizer when the young first baseman was still a minor. Meanwhile Branch Rickey of the Browns made a deal with Sizer's parents, and Rickey's deal was finally upheld by the National Commission. Barney did not rest until Garry Herrmann was removed as commission chairman and it was largely through Dreyfuss that Judge Landis ascended the baseball throne.

But he had his heartbreaks, too. For many years Barney schooled his son, Sam, to follow him as ruler of his baseball empire. Slowly Barney moved into the back-ground. But in the spring of 1931 Sam suddenly died and Barney, despite shattered health, resumed command until his own death.

You could always look for a squabble when it came time to rig up a new schedule, for Barney had one pet aversion—that of opening the season at home. He would argue and shout until finally all hands agreed that the Pirates would again play their inaugural game on the road. This became such an obsession with him that he turned to making schedules himself, just to be safe, and at meeting times would keep pulling them out of his pockets until finally one was found that proved acceptable.

It was a sad loss to baseball when Barney Dreyfuss died. And it was the end of a long and colorful story when the club finally passed out of the hands of the Dreyfuss family.

Brooklyn Barrage Beats Giants, 8-4, As 26,970 Watch
Brooklyn, Aug. 14 (AP)—A brilliant relief job by rookie Hank Behrman and a 13-hit barrage on a quartet of New York hurlers enabled the Brooklyn Dodgers to come from behind and defeat the Giants, 8-4 before 26,970 fans at Ebbets field today.

By winning, the Dodgers also retained their one game National League margin over the St. Louis Cardinals who defeated Chicago. The Dodgers will meet the Giants again tonight in a playoff of last evening's postponed game.

Behrman entered the see-saw struggle in the fifth frame, after the Giants had nicked Ed Head and reliever Hugh Casey for all of their runs. He limited the Polo grounds to four hits the rest of the way to gain credit for the victory.

The Dodgers scored once in the third and drove Mike Budnick to cover with two more runs in the fourth. After Jack Graham belted a two run homer in the fifth to send the Giants ahead, 4-3, the Dodgers stormed back in the sixth to take a lead they never relinquished.

Pistol Pete Reiser scored what proved to be the deciding run when he stole home on the front end of a triple steal.

STATE OFFICIALS
State College, Pa.—Four former Penn Staters will officiate in the National Football League again this fall. The professional arbiters are Harry Robb and Carl Rebele, of Pittsburgh; Hinkley Haines, Philadelphia, and Gene Shorty Miller, Harrisburg.

Seattle—Lou Novikoff, famed minor league slugger who failed in three trials with the Cubs and once with the Phillies, has grown reconciled to a life in the minors. Now outfielding with the Seattle club, the Mad Russian admits he doesn't expect another call to the majors, that four chances are as much as any man can expect.

FIGHTING CARDS CLIP CUBS, 6-4

Win Keeps St. Louis In Thick Of Battle For League Pennant

Chicago, Aug. 14 (AP)—Lefty Howie Pollet kept the St. Louis Cardinals in the thick of the National League pennant fight today when he pitched the second place to a 6-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Pollet allowed nine hits in gaining his No. 14 triumph of the season as the Cardinals gained a 2-1 edge for the series.

Pollet got away to a bad start, the Cubs scoring two runs off his first four pitches. Johnny Ostrowski singled on the first, and Don Johnson hit his first home run of the season on the fourth to give the Cubs a 2-0 lead.

St. Louis picked up one run in the third when Marty Marion doubled and scored on Harry Walker's single off Starter Hank Borowy.

The Cardinals added four more runs in the fourth. Enos Slaughter opened with an infield single. Whitey Kurovski grounded out, but Johnson muffed off Dick Sizer's roller for a two-base error as Slaughter scored. Joe Garagiola was given an intentional pass. Marion hit his second double, scoring Sizer. Garagiola got across on Pollet's infield bounce before Red Schoendienst singled to score Marion with the fourth run.

Erv Dusak supplied St. Louis' sixth run by hitting his No. 6 home run in the sixth after taking over in the left field for Sizer.

Chicago's two runs in the eighth were the result of a pass to Ostrowski, Eddie Waitkus' double and Andy Pafko's single. Waitkus got into the game after Umpire Jocko Conlan banished Phil Cavaretta in the third inning.

POLIO VICTIM IMPROVED
Iron Mountain—Miss Beverly Trevillian, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Trevillian Iron Mountain, and who last week was stricken with poliomyelitis while visiting in Chicago, is much improved today, according to her father, who returned last night from a brief visit with his daughter. Mrs. Trevillian, who left here Saturday with her husband remaining in Chicago.

The child was stricken while visiting, with her older brother, Russell, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nielsen, 1057 11th street, Chicago. They had planned to return late this month, to prepare for school.

11 TEACHERS ARE ENGAGED

Escanaba Schools Still Need Three More
Instructors

Appointment of 11 new members of the faculty of the Escanaba public schools was announced yesterday by John A. Lemmer, superintendent. Three more first grade teachers are needed to complete the staff.

The new teachers are: Marquette, industrial arts instructor, graduate of Northern Michigan College of Education.

Joseph Petryk, Goodman, Wis., machine shop, Stout Institute.

Erwin Wolff, Menominee, Wis., industrial arts, Stout Institute.

Virginia Brande, Manitowish, Wis., elementary, Stevens Point Normal.

Martha McGuire, Marquette, primary, Northern Michigan College of Education.

Mary Newton, Gould City, elementary, Northern Michigan College of Education.

Agnes Peterson, Larson, Wis., commercial, Whitewater Normal.

Audrey Payne, Antigo, Wis., commercial, College of St. Teresa.

Lois Quinn, Stone Lake, Wis., elementary, Eau Claire Normal.

Florence Salmon, Kenmore, N. Y., physio-therapist, Cleveland Clinic.

Helen Elaine Stinson, Chicago, elementary supervisor, University of Michigan.

At the meeting held Tuesday night, the Escanaba board of education fixed the tuition rate for students attending the Escanaba schools from outside districts at $65 for grades 7 and 8 and $24.58 for high school. The state will refund $45 of the $65 tuition paid by the outside districts for seventh and eighth graders. The tuition is based on only the per capita operating and maintenance costs, minus the state aid received by the Escanaba schools for the additional enrollment.

The board also received a check from Principal E. E. Edick of the senior high school for $500 from the towel fund and $450 to be applied toward the purchase of lunchroom tables for the senior high school.

Granting of a diploma to Howard Edmark, who served with the armed forces, was also approved by the board upon the recommendation of Principal Edick.

F. J. Hirm, president of the board of education, announced the appointment of the following board committees: Administration, Crebo, Groos and LaBranche; building and grounds, Peterson, Crebo, LaBranche, Warmington; finance, Warmington, Lewis and Peterson; purchasing, LaBranche, Groos and Peterson; teachers, Groos, Crebo, Lewis and Warmington.

Old Age Benefits Go Up This Fall

Lansing, (AP)—Old age assistance grants and aid to the blind benefits will be increased an average of $3.50 monthly and families under the aid to dependent children program will receive an additional $9 a month beginning this fall, F. F. Fauri, State Welfare Director, said today.

Fauri said the increased grants result from liberalized federal social security law and would probably go into effect in Michigan about October 1.

The increases will affect 49,000 of the state's 89,000 old age assistance recipients because approximately 20,000 of the group now receive the state maximum of $40 and about 10,000 are near the maximum. Approximately 500 aid to the blind recipients will receive the increase.

Fauri estimated the additional grants would amount to about 15 per cent more in clothing allow-

Extension Course For Educational Workers Planned

An eight-week course, entitled "The Improvement of Teaching," will be offered here each Saturday, for nine weeks beginning Sept. 14, by the School of Education of the University of Michigan. The field course in education is being offered this fall by the university extension service at Escanaba, Houghton, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Ishpeming and Sault Ste. Marie for teachers and school executives of the surrounding areas.

The major purposes of the field course may be summarized as follows: (1) To conserve the time and effort of those who desire to keep abreast of the more recent trends in classroom instruction. (2) To provide for an effective tie-up between educational theory and practice, and (3) To stimulate a genuine desire on the part of a teacher to grow professionally by working on real problems in his own school or classroom. The instructors in the course will include the following: Irving Anderson, George Carothers, Harlan Koch, Ford Lemler, Howard McClusky, Raleigh Schorling, O. W. Stephenson, John Trytten, and Clifford Woody.

Letter Carriers Picnic On Sunday

Members of the Upper Peninsula Rural Letter Carriers and their families and guests will hold an outing Sunday at Champion beach, Lake Michigamme, in Marquette county.

About one hundred are expected to attend according to Ed Forsman, Crystal Falls, secretary of the association. This will be the first picnic of the group since the suspension of the annual outing in wartime.

Need New Bombs For Planes Flying At Speed Of Sound

Washington—New bombs for speedy jet-propelled and rocket planes must be developed, the War Department announced. Existing bombs can not be dropped accurately from planes travelling near the speed of sound.

This has been determined in the Army Ballistic Research Laboratories at Aberdeen, Md., by tests in its supersonic wind tunnel and in its free-flight aero-dynamic range.

Just what shape and size will be required to make bombs of the supersonic era effective depends upon results of studies now in progress, Army officials state. The bombs themselves must be able to fall considerably faster than the present type, have less wind resistance and be more sensitive. One scientist says that they may be of the "Buck Rogers" type.
